ST COLUMBAN CATHOLIC CHURCH

23RD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

And people brought to him a deaf man who had a speech impediment and begged him to lay his hand on him. He took him off by himself away from the crowd. He put his finger into the man's ears and, spitting, touched his tongue; then he looked up to heaven and groaned, and said to him, "Ephphatha!"—that is, "Be opened!" - Mk 7:32-34

For your Prayer and Meditation —Twenty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

From the Catechism of the Catholic Church

1941 Socio-economic problems can be resolved only with the help of all the forms of solidarity: solidarity of the poor among themselves, between rich and poor, of workers among themselves, between employers and employees in a business, solidarity among nations and peoples. International solidarity is a requirement of the moral order; world peace depends in part upon this.

Sunday Liturgy

Entrance Antiphon

You are just, O Lord, and your judgement is right; treat your servant in accord with your merciful love.

Readings

Is 35:4-7a/Ps 146:7, 8-9, 9-10 (1B)/Jas 2:1-5/Mk 7:31-37

Communion Antiphon

Like the deer that years for running streams, so my soul is yearning for you, my God; my soul is thirsting for God, the living God. or I am the light of the world, says the Lord: whoever follows me will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life.

Reflect on the Sunday Readings

First Reading

Then will the eyes of the blind be opened, the ears of the deaf be cleared; then will the lame leap like a stag, then the tongue of the mute will sing. (Is 35:5-6)

The prophet Isaiah encouraged the Israelites to be strong in their conviction that God was coming to heal them and renew creation itself. Who could you encourage to be firm in their faith this week?

Psalm

Praise the Lord, my soul! (Ps 146)

Second Reading

Did not God choose those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom that he promised to those who love him? (Jas 2:5)

St. James taught believers to make no distinctions between the rich and the poor in their community gatherings. How do you think showing no partiality helps a community grow in faith?

Gospel

“He has done all things well. He makes the deaf hear and the mute speak.” (Mk 7:37)

We hear today how the people of the Decapolis were astonished at Jesus’s healing of the deaf and mute. What parts of your life need healing?

WELCOME TO SAINT COLUMBAN We proclaim the Roman Catholic faith to the communities of McKenna, Nisqually, Rainier, Roy, Tenino, and Yelm in southeast Thurston and southwest Pierce counties. Our community has grown since its origins at the former St. Margaret Mary Church in McKenna, and our current church in Yelm is named for the Irish-born 6th century missionary to Europe St. Columbanus of Bobbio. We have also been present in Tenino since 1891 through St. Peter Mission, named for the apostle and first pope.

A Word from our Pastor

Dear Parishioners,

At some point in your educational history you likely learned of several types of stories that have shaped Western Civilization. This includes comedies and tragedies, and both of these important types of stories are sadly out of style in our current times, and this is having a very negative effect on our entire civilization.

Let's consider tragedies for a moment. Tragedies have been part of Western story telling for centuries and the Greeks in particular found interest in this type of story. I was talking with a friend who is an English teacher about this, and we came up with some interesting insights as to why some of the famous tragedies from our history are so important.

First and foremost, tragedies teach us that life doesn't always go as planned. So many of these stories featured characters who wanted something and never got it because they made bad decisions among many other things. Contrast this with the stories Hollywood tells. There is almost always a happy ending and things almost always work out for the characters involved.

It is dangerous to give people the impression that things always work out, and that every story has a happy ending because real life stories don't always have happy endings. We need to make a lot of good decisions in order to have a happy life, and even then things happen that are beyond our control. Tragedies kept that reality at the forefront of our minds, but today I'm not sure we have that so deeply embedded in our consciousness.

OThe friend I mentioned above has a particular interest in Shakespeare. She educated me on a particular element of Shakespearean tragedy I found fascinating, in that the tragic character always has a fatal flaw that leads to their doom. In the case of the famous Shakespeare character

Romeo, it is that he acts impulsively without much reflection.

This is another dynamic we would do well to remember. When bad things happen, we are often taught by today's wisdom to blame external forces on these outcomes. If young people get into trouble, we often blame parents, and educational opportunities, and economic realities. While I don't want to dismiss those because they really do factor into these situations, the truth is that there are ways of thinking and acting by these individuals that are not good. Tragedies, like those of Shakespeare, often teach us to start with ourselves and recognize that our own flaws can sometimes lead to our destruction.

As for comedies, you might have noticed that comedy is in a terrible place right now as a genre, although it is improving a bit. Comedians like Jerry Seinfeld, Chris Rock, and Dave Chappell will no longer perform on college campuses, because the students take offense at their jokes and protest their performances. Furthermore, what is being passed as comedy is not actually all that funny. There are some good articles and videos about this you can find on the internet if you don't believe me.

Comedy has an important purpose in a healthy society. It teaches us not to take ourselves too seriously, and reels in extreme ideologies. It has a moderating effect on society. It helps us realize that we do stupid things from time to time and prevents us from feeling a false sense of superiority to others. Aside from the psychological benefits of laughter, being able to laugh at ourselves keeps us humble as individuals and as a community.

If Western Civilization as we know it has a future, it will be because we once again begin to value the important contributions tragedy and comedy have in the stories we tell, whether those stories are on paper or on the screen.

Fr. Bryan

Did you know?

This month is commemorated as the Month of the Seven Sorrows of Mary. This is because the memorial of Our Lady of Sorrows falls on September 15, which always follows the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross on the 14th. This Marian devotion includes meditating on each of the Seven Sorrows. The sorrows are particular events in the life of Mary which are representative of the sufferings she endured as the Mother of Christ. This should not be confused with the five Sorrowful Mysteries of the Rosary. Do you remember each of the Seven Sorrows? See the answer on page 6.

Saint of the Week

St. Peter Claver, Priest (Sep. 9)

"Who is my neighbor?" Jesus' answer to this question was the parable of the Good Samaritan. In short, the person you least expect. Peter Claver was born in 16th century Spain. Peter became a Jesuit and was deeply influenced by the missionary call. At age 30, he set out for modern-day Colombia. At the time, Cartagena was one of the largest slave markets in the New World. As a priest, Peter knew his role was spiritual service. He quickly dedicated his ministry to these "neighbors" whom the world rejected. When a slave ship entered the harbor, Peter would rush on board with food, water, and a human touch. He introduced some slaves to Christ in a more formal way. As these new converts were moved to plantations, he would visit them, stay in their quarters, and advocate with the masters to act humanely. St. Peter Claver called himself "the slave of the slaves forever." May we, too, have a powerful sense of our neighbor.

St. Peter Claver, pray for us!

Q&A

We celebrate the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross every year on September 14. What is the history behind feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross?

Answer: Emperor Constantine's mother, Helena, is credited with having discovered the true cross around 330. She traveled to the Holy Land and uncovered the places associated with Jesus' life. Legend has it that Helena uncovered three crosses but was not able to detect the true cross until each of them was laid on a leper. Only one of them cured the leper, proving it to be the true cross. A great church was built at the site, and soon various portions of the cross were sent to other churches as relics to be venerated.

The day after the dedication of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, September 14, 335, the actual cross was displayed for veneration. Egeria, a women traveler to Jerusalem around the year 386, kept

"What did the angel do when he forgot the message he was supposed to deliver?"

"He winged it."

The word "angel" means "messenger," and angels can communicate God's love to us on earth. Each of us also has a Guardian Angel to guard and protect us.

The Exaltation of the Holy Cross focuses on the gift of love that Jesus manifested by his total gift of self, offered for all. The cross, the ultimate form of capital punishment in its day, has become for us the ultimate symbol of love and triumph over evil and death.
