For your Prayer and Meditation

Reflect on the Sunday Liturgy

Entrance Antiphon Your merciful love, O God, we have received in the midst of your temple. Your praise, O God, like your name, reaches the ends of the earth; your right hand is filled with saving justice.

Sunday Readings Mal 3:1-4/Heb 2:14-18/Ps 24:7, 8, 9, 10/Lk 2:22-40 or 2:22-3

First Reading Lo, I am sending my messenger to prepare the way before me; and suddenly there will come to the temple the LORD whom you seek. (Mal 3:1)

Malachi prophesied a coming messenger who will purify those making offerings to the Lord. How do you prepare for Sunday worship?

Psalms Who is this king of glory? It is the Lord! (Ps 24)

Second Reading Therefore, he had to become like his brothers and sisters in every way, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest before God. (Heb 2:17)

Hebrews teaches that Jesus was tested and suffered so that he could be merciful and understanding with our struggles and challenges. What are you facing this week that Jesus could help you with?

Gospel “Now, Master, you may let your servant go in peace, according to your word, for my eyes have seen your salvation.” (Lk 2:29-30)

Mary and Joseph received incredible news from Simeon and Anna about the infant Jesus at his presentation in the Temple. Who helps you process startling or unsettling information?

Communion Antiphon My eyes have seen your salvation, which you prepared in the sight of all the peoples.

Mass Intentions

Parishioners may schedule a Mass intention on our website or by calling the office. Sunday Masses are offered Pro Populo

Feb. 4— Michelle & Denise Stevenson RIP

Feb. 5— Marie & Wess Goss

Feb. 6 —

Feb. 7—(FIRST FRIDAY)

The Code of Canon Law confirms the practice of offering Masses for particular intentions is ancient: “The Christian faithful who give an offering to apply the Mass for their intention contribute to the good of the Church and by that offering share its concern to support its ministers and works” (945 §2).

Prayer Intentions

Loving God, we join with others of your people here asking you to hold in Your hands all of our homebound brothers and sisters and those who have asked for our prayers

For The Sick and Homebound

For The Deceased

All the souls in purgatory, especially Fr. Jim Lee, Fr. Oliver Duggan, Fr. Hyracio Yanez, Euylene Matz and all those who have no one to pray for them.

May the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace.

For our young people, that they may eagerly seek and generously respond to their vocations from God.

For peace in the world, for God’s protection on those in danger, the defeat and true repentance of unjust aggressors, and mercy for those who have died by violence.

Monthly Intentions of the Pope: For families in crisis. Let us pray that broken families might discover the cure for their wounds through forgiveness, rediscovering each other's gifts, even in their differences.

Welcome to our Parish Family

St. Columban Parish proclaims the Roman Catholic faith to the communities of McKenna, Nisqually, Rainier, Roy, Tenino, and Yelm in southeast Thurston and southwest Pierce counties. Our community has grown since its origins at the former St. Margaret Mary Church in McKenna, and our current church in Yelm is named for the Irish-born 6th century missionary to Europe St. Columbanus of Bobbio. The Catholic Church has also been present in Tenino since 1891 through St. Peter Mission, named for the apostle and first pope.

Since July 2024, Sacred Heart Parish in Lacey, St. Columban Parish, and St. Peter Mission formed into Parish Family 40 under our pastor, Very Rev. Bryan Ochs.

A Word from our Pastor

Dear Parishioners,

When I look back at my childhood and teenage years, the times I feel that I was the most loved were the times my parents told me, “No.”

Granted, when I was in my teenage years the times my parents told me “No!” were the times I questioned my parents love for me the most. Looking back on those times, however, there is no mistaking it: No really meant, “We love you.”

Saying “No!” is difficult in a few ways. First, it goes against our natural desire to make our children happy. To say, “No!” often means that you are depriving them of something that they want and that can be difficult, even if we know that what they want will not make them happy in the long run. To say, “No” in these situations is actually a “Yes” to something better. It means that we are raising their minds to something greater than they desire.

But I think the most difficult aspect of saying no is that it requires a lot of energy. Saying “No!” means you are going to have a fight on your hands. You who are parents will understand what I mean. Saying no to a child means it’s about to get very loud. I don’t know of a single instance when a child threw a tantrum because his parents said, “Yes.” I also don’t know of a single time a parent said, “No!” without a Tantrum ensuing. It would be so easy to skip the drama altogether by giving in and saying, “Yes.” This is why saying “No” is such a loving thing to do. It takes a lot of work.

The same goes with teenagers. Yes, some teenagers still throw tantrums as if they were three years old, but teenagers can also be much crueler to their parents when the answer is, “No.” Teenagers will openly express their doubt that their parents really care about them at all and will even tell their parents they are hated. As an acquaintance of mine said, “Sometimes you need to love your children enough to let them hate you.” Truer words have never been spoken.

So, beginning with my parents, I want to thank all the Moms and Dads out there who have loved their children enough to say, “No.” Thanks for putting up with all our tantrums and putting up with our manipulative teenage drama. And to all the children and teenagers out there who are hopefully reading this who have heard, “No!” from your parents, I want you to know that you are very lucky that your parents love you enough to say that. Whether you wanted them to buy you something that you weren’t ready for, or whether it was when you wanted to do something with your friends that wasn’t safe, or whether they didn’t even have a reason, the word “No!” means your parents love you a lot. You should thank them for saying it.

As a Priest, I’ve also struggled to say no to people. This was not over moral issues, mind you. It was mostly over people wanting special treatment. I’ve said yes to things I shouldn’t have because I didn’t have the energy to have a conflict. Saying “Yes” when I shouldn’t have has caused a lot of extra work for me and parish staffs that I have served, as well as some occasional confusion among the people in our parish. It was not loving for me to say Yes in these situations.

I’ve improved at this for sure over the years, but I hope that if I ever have to say “No,” to you or somebody you know that you’ll know it is coming from a place of love and a desire for you and all of our parishioners to reach your full potential as disciples of the Lord and to maintain unity in our parishes.

Dialogue for Justice: Catholic Advocacy to Reduce Poverty

The readings for the Feast of the Presentation of the Lord remind us of the significance of both recognizing and naming Jesus in the events of our everyday lives. Today is also referred to as Candlemas Day. In many churches, the liturgy will be preceded by a blessing of candles, which symbolize Christ as the Light of the world; light that makes visible what is hidden in the shadows. Hidden in the shadows of next week’s Super Bowl, we find violence and criminal activity, including the trafficking of children, women and men for sex and labor. Next weekend as we gather with friends, let us take a moment to pray for those who may be victims of human trafficking. Let us also hope that the efforts to raise awareness about this abusive practice will serve to decrease the number of children, women and men who would be victims to this modern-day slavery. Polarisproject.org is a great resource for recognizing the signs of human trafficking. They operate a 24/7 national hotline to report any suspected incidences of trafficking.

Faith Formation

From the Catechism of the Catholic Church

529 The presentation of Jesus in the temple shows him to be the firstborn Son who belongs to the Lord. [Cf. Lk 2:22-39; Ex13:2, 12-13] With Simeon and Anna, all Israel awaits its encounter with the Savior—the name given to this event in the Byzantine tradition. Jesus is recognized as the long-expected Messiah, the "light to the nations" and the "glory of Israel", but also "a sign that is spoken against". The sword of sorrow predicted for Mary announces Christ's perfect and unique oblation on the cross that will impart the salvation God had "prepared in the presence of all peoples".

Items such as boots, gloves, hats, scarves, coats, blankets, etc. are needed; rather than summer apparel such as swimsuits, shorts, & flipflops which are not particularly useful for keeping warm during the winter months.

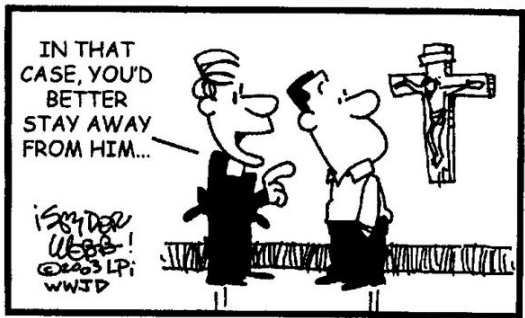

"If Moses were alive today, why would he be considered a remarkable man?"

"Because he would be several thousand years old!"

FUN FACT! Moses was chosen by God to free the Israelites from slavery by the Egyptians, and bring them to the promised land. It was also through Moses that we received the Ten Commandments.

PRESENTATION OF THE LORD Father Flood © LPi

Why do we do that? Catholic Life Explained

Presentation of the Lord

Question: Luke's Gospel is the only one to mention the Presentation of the Lord in the Temple. What is Luke trying to communicate here and what connection does it have with Mary?

Answer: February 2 is exactly forty days after December 25, the nativity of Jesus. Jewish law (Ex 13:2, 12) dictated that Jesus, as the firstborn, be consecrated to God. This was done by the parents as they presented their Son in the Temple.

Jewish law further specified (Lv 12:2-8) that a mother was ritually impure after giving birth, and that she had to wait a set period of time (forty days for a boy) before she was to offer a sacrifice to the Lord for purification.

The convergence of these two Jewish regulations occasions Luke's account of both the Presentation of the Lord and the Purification of Mary. These days the liturgical emphasis is more on the Presentation of Jesus. Luke highlights the role of Simeon and Anna, two righteous Jews who recognized Jesus as the long-awaited Messiah and praised God for being able to see and experience such a marvel in their lifetimes.

Simeon's prayer concerning the special role of Jesus states that Jesus is "a light for revelation to the Gentiles." This phrase eventually originated the custom of blessing candles on this day which were to be used in the ceremonies, rituals, and processions throughout the church year. Thus February 2 is also known as Candlemas Day. This day is indeed a rich feast to be savored.
