For your Prayer and Meditation

Reflect on the Sunday Liturgy

Entrance Antiphon Of you my heart has spoken: Seek his face. It is your face, O Lord, that I seek; hide not your face from me.

Sunday Readings Gn 15:5-12, 17-18/Ps 27:1, 7-8, 8-9, 13-14/Phil 3:17-4:1 or 3:20-4:1/Lk 9:28b-36

First Reading It was on that occasion that the LORD made a covenant with Abram, saying: "To your descendants I give the land, from the Wadi of Egypt to the Great River, the Euphrates." (Gn 15:18)

The Lord God promised Abram land and many descendants because Abram put his faith in the Lord. Why do you have faith in God?

Psalm The Lord is my light and my salvation. (Ps 27)

Second Reading He will change our lowly body to conform with his glorified body by the power that enables him also to bring all things into subjection to himself. (Phil 3:21)

St. Paul teaches the Corinthians that upon Jesus' return, he will change our bodies to conform with his glorified body. Can you imagine what a glorified body will be like?

Gospel Jesus took Peter, John, and James and went up the mountain to pray. While he was praying his face changed in appearance and his clothing became dazzling white. (Lk 9:28b-29)

As Peter, James and John witnessed Jesus' transfiguration, they heard God say, "This is my chosen Son; listen to him." As the season of Lent continues, what do you hope to hear from God?

Communion Antiphon This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased; listen to him.

Welcome Home

St. Columban Parish proclaims the Roman Catholic faith to the communities of McKenna, Nisqually, Rainier, Roy, Tenino, and Yelm in southeast Thurston and southwest Pierce counties. Our community has grown since its origins at the former St. Margaret Mary Church in McKenna, and our current church in Yelm is named for the Irish-born 6th century missionary to Europe St. Columbanus of Bobbio. We have also been present in Tenino since 1891 through St. Peter Mission, named for the apostle and first pope.

Since July 2024, Sacred Heart Parish in Lacey, St. Columban Parish, and St. Peter Mission formed into Parish Family 40 under our pastor, Very Rev. Bryan Ochs.

A Word from our Pastor

This is part 3 of a series on the Sacrament of Reconciliation. Please see the bulletins from March 2nd and March 9th for further context.

Dear Parishioners,

Last week we looked at the biblical definition of sin, which means “Missing the mark.” When we sin, we are trying to fulfill some type of happiness, but our action doesn’t fulfill the goal. Rather than trusting God to bring that love and peace, we take it into our own hands. It misses, and in turn erodes trust and isolates us.

Today we are going to look at two categories of sin, which you might be familiar with. The first category is called, Mortal sin. The term “mortal sin” comes from the Bible, specifically in the First Letter of John. In this letter, John says, “There is sin that is not mortal.” The Bible doesn’t give us a name for these non-mortal sins, so the Church calls them, “Venial.”

Both of these types of sins damage our ability to love and harms our communion with others, but they work in different ways. Venial sins are less serious, and they slowly impact us over a long period of time. These are sins that we sometimes commit out of habit or a lack of a well-formed conscience. They will hurt us, but slowly.

Mortal sins are much more serious, but a lot of Catholics don’t really understand what makes a sin so serious. In order for a sin to be mortal, the sin must be very serious but the person must also have full knowledge of the sin’s gravity. In addition to this, they must be able to act with complete freedom, free from any type of coercion.

In other words, what makes a sin mortal has to do with how much the person invests themselves in the act of sin. For example, a person doing unnecessary work on the Lord’s Day is often considered fairly serious, because we are putting other God’s before him. But some people just don’t know that, so their ignorance makes them less culpable. Furthermore, some people are economically struggling, and they have to work on Sunday to provide for their families. They are also not as culpable for these sins. Since they lack freedom, they are not guilty of mortal sin.

Some priests might have you believe that people constantly commit mortal sins. Others will have you believe that mortal sins never happen. The truth is in the middle. We do commit mortal sins, but they are relatively rare. You will know that you have committed a mortal sin, because you will feel the change deep in you. You will feel like your innocence was destroyed, and you will grieve a bit.

You will also sense the awkwardness around people you have hurt. You will feel it. If you lash out at a spouse or a child and hurt them, you’ll feel the pain. If you cross a moral boundary that you’ve never crossed before or that you haven’t crossed in a long time, you will feel the separation and isolation that tells you that you have committed a mortal sin.

If you commit a mortal sin and feel that pain and awkwardness you should go to confession as soon as possible. Waiting is not going to make it easier to confess. Soon, we will take a look at the question of how often we should go to confession to confess venial sins.

Fr. Bryan

Faith Formation

From the Catechism of the Catholic Church

555 For a moment Jesus discloses his divine glory, confirming Peter's confession. He also reveals that he will have to go by the way of the cross at Jerusalem in order to "enter into his glory." Moses and Elijah had seen God's glory on the Mountain; the Law and the Prophets had announced the Messiah's sufferings. Christ's Passion is the will of the Father: the Son acts as God's servant; the cloud indicates the presence of the Holy Spirit. "The whole Trinity appeared: the Father in the voice; the Son in the man; the Spirit in the shining cloud."

Dialogue for Justice: Catholic Advocacy to Reduce Poverty

"This is my chosen Son; listen to him" (Lk 9:35).

Listening, really listening, is hard work. Most people listen with half an ear. Our minds are constantly processing, thinking, and evaluating. Even in our sleep our minds are busy. Dreams and nightmares manifest themselves. So, the question must be asked: How often do we really listen to the Gospel message of Jesus? Our attitudes and our beliefs filter the Gospel message. We tend to make the Gospel fit us rather than us fit the Gospel. "This makes sense, so I'll accept it. However, this other part is a bit too much. It's way too hard." When it comes to making space in our hearts for issues of justice, we can easily substitute our political beliefs to replace the Gospel message of Jesus. Jesus was countercultural. He touched people who had died. He welcomed women into his entourage. He allowed "sinners" to invite him to dinner. He forgave people who harmed him. Through his actions he demonstrated the love and mercy of God the Father. He wishes that his actions would be an example of how we should act when confronted with unjust behaviors and barriers. We are in the early days of Lent. How might we pray for the grace of God to touch our hearts and allow them to be open to the movement of the Holy Spirit when it comes to recognizing and responding to issues of justice? "Come Holy Spirit, fill the hearts of your faithful and enkindle in us the fire of your Spirit. Amen." Peace and all good, Deacon, Terry Barber, ofs

Q&A HOSPITALIZED CATHOLIC PATIENTS & THEIR CARETAKERS

"When the Church cares for the sick, it serves Christ himself in the suffering members of his Mystical Body." (Sacred Congregation for Divine Worship)

HOW DO I REQUEST A PRIEST FOR SACRAMENTAL SUPPORT?

When possible, arrange to receive the sacraments of reconciliation and anointing of the sick in your home parish before hospitalization. In emergency situations, you can contact your home parish. In addition, the Spiritual Care department or chaplain at your hospital can often contact a priest on your behalf. Because of the shortage of priests, it normally takes up to 48 hours from the time a request is made until a priest or other minister is bedside. For this reason, whenever possible, please do not defer contacting a priest until it is an emergency. Some hospitals also have pastoral ministers available for non-urgent pastoral care. Please contact the Spiritual Care department at your hospital to request support.

WHEN SHOULD I BE ANOINTED OR HAVE A FAMILY MEMBER ANOINTED?

Whenever possible, arrange to receive the sacrament of anointing of the sick in your home parish before going in for surgery. Anointing of the sick is a sacrament of healing for the living and should not be deferred until death is imminent.

WHAT ARE THE LAST RITES? DOES THE CHURCH STILL OFFER THAT?

Traditionally, the "Last Rites" of the Church include the sacraments of reconciliation, anointing and viaticum (the last holy Communion of a dying person) and the commendation of the dying. While only a priest can provide confession and anointing, a deacon or lay minister can offer viaticum and the commendation of the dying.

I WANT TO RECEIVE COMMUNION WHILE I'M HOSPITALIZED. IS THAT POSSIBLE?

Yes, it is possible to receive communion in the hospital. Almost every hospital has lay Eucharistic Ministers, deacons, or priest chaplains who can bring Holy Communion to those who are hospitalized and their loved ones. Please contact the Spiritual Care Department of the hospital to see if this is possible in your setting. Always check with the medical team to ensure you or your loved one is medically able to receive Holy Communion.
